MEAGRE SALARIES PAID

The Attorney for the District Wants More Money.

Recommendation That the Clerical Help in This Department Be Increased-A More Liberal Appropriation for Remuneration Requested. Mr. Duvall's Pertinent Statement.

The Attorney for the District, Andrew Commissioners to the inadequate force in his office, and to the meagre salaries that are paid to those who are employed there. The act creating the office of Attorney, passed in 1871, provided that this office should have entire charge of the law business of the District under the direction of the Governor, and should assume the responsibility for all suits

Further it provided that the Attorney should be required to furnish opinions in writing to the Governor whenever resuch professional duties as might be required of him. The Assistant Attorney was required to be in constant consultation with the Attorney, and is charged with the preparation of all cases for court.

This law is still in force except that the Attorney is responsible to the Commissioners instead of the Governor. When the present form of District government was organized the Attorney was also charged with the prosecution of all cases in the Police Court for violations of the District ordinances, and a special assist-ess volume of municipal legal business, it has been found that true economy demand-d a more generous equipment of the law lepartment. For instance, the city of Buffa-oprovides for a corporation counsel. 5,000; city attorney, $3,000; deputy city attorney, $2,500; deputy city attorney, $2,500; deputy city attorney, $2,500; two deputy assistants at 2,000 each; a managing clerk, $1,400; derk, $1,200; two messengers, $900 each; wo stenographers, $900 each, and a polite officer assigned by the polite department. "The city of Pittsburg provides for a city attorney, $5,000; first assistant, $2,500, with a clerk, $2,000, and a stenographer, $1,000; three assistants, $2,500 each; a clerk, $2,000, and a stenographer, $1,000; three assistant, $2,500; three clerk, $2,000; first assistant, $2,500; cecond assistant, $2,500; three assistant, $2,500; three clerk, $1,000, and office stenographer. $1,000, and office stenographers at $780 and $480, respectively.

"The city of Detroit provides for a corporation counsel, $5,000; chird assistant, $3,000; second assistant, $2,500; third and fourth assistants, $1,800 each; one chief clerk, $1,200; one copy clerk, $1,000, and and one or more policemen assigned to office. "Newark, N. J., provides for a corporation counsel, $6,000; corporation attorney, $1,500, besides clerks, etc.

"In each of these cities the attorney is ceedings under that act.

'The Attorney's Office is not even provided with a ttenographer. Such assistance, absolutely necessary for the conduct of business, has to be secured by the Attorney using the appropriation for the messenger and adding thereto, at his own expense, a sufficient sum to obtain the services of an office stenographer.
'I respectfully submit that an appropriation should be made for a stenographer, and there also should be a first assistant attorney, as is provided by the ordinance of the city of Pittsburg, who should have edings under that act.

CHARGES AGAINST GOINGS.

An Arrest Leads to the Recovery of Stolen Property.

When John Goings, alias Boughn, who was arrested yesterday by Policemen Mullen and Bean, of the Sixth precinct, is arraigned in the Police Court tomorrow morning it is expected that four charges will confront him. At present the prisoner is charged with housebreaking.

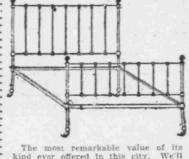

There is only one leature of the system to which exception is taken by naval officers, and a determined effort will be made to correct it. This consists of an inability of receivers to print intelligent messages when two or more transmitters within range are simultaneously sending. Before is charged with housebreaking.

Messrs. Williamson and Fugitt.
Mr. Glies testified that on July 19 last, he was returning from work about 10:30 o'clock, when he met Miss Dora Linkins, a friend of his, near the K Street bridge southeast, where it crosses the James Creek Canal. Miss Linkins, he stated, asked him to accompany her to a drug store on the other side of the bridge. He did so. On the way, he said, they stopped on the bridge to chat. While standing on the bridge he was approached by Frank Turner, who asked him the time, and also asked if he had any money. On being informed it was none of his business, Turner took hold of him and the other defendants then sprung upon him and rushed him off the bridge. Glles said that the defendants overpowered and robbed him, and beat him. One of the defendants, the witness said, suggested that they should throw him into the canal.
